

Sustainable Development / Selective sorting guide

The Tourist Office is particularly involved in the selective recycling process. For several years, the actions implemented have the objective of further reducing waste and the cost of treatment. So also during your stay, think about the environment!

The selective collection

The selective sorting is an essential voluntary act for the environment. It associates the use of several 'Trash cans'.

The yellow bags (for empty recyclable packaging, plastic, cardboard or metal)

The green waste bins (for glass)

The blue waste bins (for paper)

Once collected, the yellow bags are sorted manually at the waste recycling Centre of Southern Rhone Environment. The collected materials are conditioned there to be transported towards units of recycling or their treatment will allow the production of new products which will realize savings.
